AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

Two musical and dancing numbers, with a wire juggling act, make up a nicely varied combination for the vaudeville which opened on Monday at the Auditorium, and each of the three was vigorously applauded. As comedy singers, the vaudeville couple, Baxter and La Cenda put on a clever turn which is full of fun and fine dancing. Miss Blanche Aldrich, who featured a light comedy act, and in a scene all she claims to be, and slips from one costume to another with only seconds to spare between her disappearance and her reappearance as an American soldier boy.

On both the tight and the slack wire the Les Valadons perform some marvelous juggling and bicycle acts, and one of the hits of the show is when Baby Les Valadon comes out to do a contortion act through a small hoop. The little fellow, Baby Les Valadon, of yellow hair considerably mussed up in the operation, but he emerged triumphant and brings down the house.

There is a pleasing selection for the moving picture films.

WAS ADVISED INJUNCTION HAD BEEN VACATED.

State Treasurer Lippitt So Testifies in Contempt Proceedings.

The contempt proceedings instituted by Clarence Denning of New Haven and other taxpayers against Controller Thomas D. Bradstreet and State Treasurer Lippitt, based upon an alleged violation of an injunction issued by Judge Williams July 19, restraining the controller and state treasurer from paying $300 each to 11 newspapers, relative reporters, were resumed in the superior court at Hartford Tuesday before Judge Greene. New answers were made by Attorney General Light on behalf of the defendants. In substance they denied that the controller drew his order in disobedience to the injunction and that he acted upon advice of the attorney general, who declared that the legislative order was not in violation of said injunction; that the state treasurer believed it his duty as an executive officer to make the payments, as the attorney general had advised that such action would not be in violation of the law.

Original Records Required.

Attorneys Daggett and White of New Haven represented the plaintiffs. Immediately after the reading of the complaint and substitute answers, Mr. Daggett called Deputy Controller E. C. Bliss to the stand and examined him regarding the details of the transaction with the reporters. Searching inquiry was made as to hour of the presentation of the claims, the method of filing them, etc. Attorney Daggett then asked for the records. The attorney general presented a certified copy, but counsel for the plaintiffs refused to accept them. After hearing arguments from both sides the court ruled that the original records be produced in court. Deputy Controller Bliss on being asked how long it would take to get them, replied that he would endeavor to get them. He left the witness stand to consult with Mr. Bradstreet and upon returning announced that the records would be produced. The court asked why, and was informed that such procedure was unusual. The case was an unusual one and that he would disregard the custom. The attorney general then announced that the filing of the records would be followed.

In resuming his testimony the deputy in reply to questions said that the original records of the claims of the reporters were presented had been procured from his office by Attorney Robert J. Woodruff of New Haven. He then left the stand and went to the capital for the original records.

Stipulation Admitted.

Attorney Woodruff was then called. He testified that he appeared in the original proceedings for 11 reporters and filed a stipulation which was to be used in the contempt proceedings. The stipulation was then presented by Attorney Daggett, but the attorney general objected to its introduction. He said that the stipulation was not a party to it and were in no sense bound by it. Counsel for the plaintiffs then undertook to prove that the stipulation was in fact a party to it. The court ruled that the stipulation was in fact a party to it and was to be used in the contempt proceedings. It was also shown that the reporters' claims for services were all in the handwriting of Attorney Woodruff. The hearing was resumed at the afternoon session.

State Treasurer's Statement.

At the afternoon session Treasurer Lippitt went on the stand. Mr. Lippitt testified that he had no knowledge of the injunction and said he had acted on the advice of the attorney general. He stated that he had told his deputy, Mr. Woodruff, that the state resolution of April 4 had been rescinded and that he had been advised by the attorney general that the injunction was vacated. His deputy, he said, paid the claims without further instructions from him. He had not consulted, he said, with the attorney general, and he had no knowledge of the stipulation filed in behalf of the reporters until he heard of it today. He had left, he said, all matters pertaining to the injunction to the attorney general, who he thought was competent to take care of them.

Mr. Lippitt's testimony closed the taking of evidence, and the making of arguments was begun. Mr. Daggett of counsel for the plaintiffs opened the arguments, taking up especially the legal policy of keeping separate the executive and judicial departments and called attention to the action of the controller and treasurer before the payment of the claims. He asked advice of himself, their natural and legal counselor under the statute.

Henry C. White closed the case for the taxpayers, saying that he desired to go right to the substance of the thing, which he said indicated plainly a trick and stratagem to avoid the payment of the claims. He said that in case contempt was found the controller and treasurer be fined enough to repay the state for the payments and the cost of the proceedings.

Attorney General Light in his argument for the state officers spoke somewhat briefly. He asked the court to consider seriously whether the injunction was not by strong implication at least aimed at the senate and therefore void. He emphasized the general legal policy of keeping separate the executive and judicial departments and called attention to the action of the controller and treasurer before the payment of the claims. He asked advice of himself, their natural and legal counselor under the statute.

Henry C. White closed the case for the taxpayers, saying that he desired to go right to the substance of the thing, which he said indicated plainly a trick and stratagem to avoid the payment of the claims. He said that in case contempt was found the controller and treasurer be fined enough to repay the state for the payments and the cost of the proceedings.

MOST CERTAIN WAY TO END A BAD COLD.

Surely Breaks the Most Severe Cold and Ends Grippe Misery in Just a Few Hours.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Paper's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking, and all the disagreeable, grippish symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrh discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges. Paper's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that most other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Paper's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

more nor less than a gratuity. He said the facts of the case involved only the most elementary law and that the advice given by the attorney general to the two state officers did not legally purge them of contempt and at most could only mitigate penalty. He closed with copious citations of cases in higher courts to show the force of injunctions and that they could be desired to do so. The counsel for the petitioners being allowed an additional week if they desired to reply.
